

Requirements

Previous musical training is not required, but is beneficial. This school is not intended to teach instrumental proficiency, but to enhance and grow current skills in the context of leading worship. Students need to have a heart for worship, musical interest, and the ability to listen and follow instructions, and wait for their turn to participate. This is a prophetic school so there will be elements of personal worship and prayer that require a stronger maturity to focus and participate.

Commitment

We have six scheduled classes from October-April. We ask for a commitment for students to attend all classes (if possible) as the content and concepts will build upon each other.
